

BOZZO FAMILY VINEYARDS ‘GAILA FORCE’ WHITE BLEND 2023

Bozzo Family Vineyards is a family-run estate in Loudoun County, Virginia, where every wine is named for a member of the family. Gaila Force takes its name from cousin Gail – a force to be reckoned with, and a fitting namesake for this bright, unapologetically vivid white blend of Viognier and Petit Manseng.

VINTAGE NOTES

2023 was a stellar vintage in Loudoun County, delivering a better-than-average harvest of exceptionally clean, ripe fruit. Even ripening gave the Viognier its aromatic lift, while the Petit Manseng held on to the natural acidity that frames the blend.

WINEMAKING NOTES

Fermented with cultured yeast and aged entirely in stainless steel for six months to preserve freshness, aromatics, and varietal purity. No oak. Filtered to 0.45 micron and bottled dry at 0.09% residual sugar, with a total acidity of 7.6 g/L and a pH of 3.34 at bottling.

TASTING NOTES

Bright and crisp, a summer-into-fall white. Tropical fruit and fresh citrus lead the palate, carried by lively acidity to a clean, pleasant finish. A natural match for Asian cuisine, shellfish, and spice-driven dishes. Awarded Bronze at the Atlantic Seaboard Wine Association Competition.
